

Decolonising Global Health: What Does It Mean For Asia?

Calls to decolonise the field of global health have helped to shine a light on the power structures and inequities within global health and highlighted the need to increase genuine representation and involvement of marginalised voices.

This webinar will bring together leaders from institutions across Asia to examine the evolving discourse around decolonising global health, the role of educational institutions, and ways in which Asia can help 'decolonise' global health within and beyond the region.

Monday, 24th January 2022

11 AM Pakistan

12 PM Bangladesh

1PM Thailand

2PM Singapore, Hongkong, Philippines

REGISTER NOW

<https://tinyurl.com/DGHAsia>

PANELISTS

1

Renzo R. Guinto, MD DrPH

Inaugural Director,
Planetary and Global Health Program
St. Luke's Medical Center College of Medicine

2

Sabina F. Rashid, PhD

Dean
James P. Grant School of Public Health, BRAC University

3

Vivian Lin, DrPH

Executive Associate Dean
Li Ka Shing Faculty of Medicine,
University of Hong Kong

4

Zainab Samad, MBBS, MHS

Professor and Chair,
Department of Medicine
Aga Khan University

5

Phudit Tejavivaddhana, MD MPA DHSM

Director, ASEAN Institute for Health Development
Mahidol University

Moderator

Amina Mahmood Islam, MPH

Deputy Director,
SingHealth Duke-NUS
Global Health Institute

Jointly organised by