WHISTLEBLOWING - REPORTING OF WRONGFUL PRACTICES INVOLVING STAFF MEMBERS OF NUS

The University is committed to steward our resources responsibly by maintaining an ethical culture, one of integrity and compliance with laws, regulations and standards.

In line with the above commitment, the University instituted a Whistleblowing Policy (HR 080/11) to provide a channel for the reporting of actual or suspected wrong doings committed by any University staff for investigation and corrective actions as well as assurance that staff will be protected from reprisals for whistleblowing in good faith.

Scope

The Policy covers, but is not limited, to the following wrong doings:

(a) Illegal activities, unethical and improper practices relating to financial and accounting matters and standards.

(b) Non-compliance with laws and regulations.

(c) Breach of University’s Statutes, policies and code of conduct.

(d) Acts of Retaliation against staff who have made an allegation or assisted in the investigation of an allegation.

The Policy does not cover staff grievances or complaints such as those relating to University’s policies and procedures involving job performance, employment terms and conditions, speed of claims processing, facilities maintenance standard etc. Staff members should raise such matters through the usual reporting channels.

Responsibilities of Whistleblower

Staff making a report (Whistleblower) should ensure that all claims of wrong doings are made in good faith. When making a report, the Whistleblower should provide as much details as possible in relation to:

(a) What is the alleged act?
(b) Who is involved in the act?
(c) When and where did it occur?
(d) What are the supporting documents and evidence?

The Whistleblower is encouraged to identify himself/herself and provide his/her contact details. After making a report, the whistleblower should refrain from further investigation of the incident, confrontation of the accused or further discussion of the incident. If he or she has identified himself/herself, he or she will be contacted by the investigation team to provide additional information or clarification, where appropriate.
