

Lee May Ling June

Contact Information

E-mail: June_LEE@duke-nus.edu.sg

Educational Qualifications:

Master of Public Health

University of Queensland

07/2010 – 07/2012

Bachelor of Arts (Hons)

Majoring in Psychology, University of Queensland

02/2009 – 11/2009

Bachelor of Social Science (Hons.)

Majoring in Psychology, National University of Singapore

07/2001 – 05/2005

'A' levels

Temasek Junior College

03/1999 – 12/2000

'O' levels

River Valley High School

01/1994 – 12/1998

Work Experience:

Senior Research Associate, Centre for Ageing Research and Education Duke-NUS,
January 2020-present

Research Associate, Centre for Ageing Research and Education Duke-NUS, June 2016 –
January 2020

- Coordination and management of longitudinal research and evaluation studies

Senior Executive, Health Promotion Board (Research and Evaluation), April 2012 – June 2016

- Designed, implemented, and analyzed evaluation studies and national-based survey studies
 - Colorectal Cancer Screening
 - Strength Training Exercise Programme
 - Community-based Health Study
- Analyzed unstructured data to provide business insights to improve operational processes and assess program effectiveness.
 - Healthy Lifestyle Application

Locum Psychologist, Singapore General Hospital, December 2008 – January 2009

- Provided neuropsychological assessment services and recommendations for dementia clinics

Research Assistant, National University of Singapore (Geriatric Research Programme), Jan 2008 – March 2008

- Involved in questionnaire design

Research Psychologist, Singapore General Hospital, June 2006 – July 2008

- Maintained databases for clinical trials
- Conducted neuropsychological tests for clinical trials in English, Mandarin, and Hokkien
- Assessed patients' cognitive status for dementia clinics

Program Therapist, Autism Partnership, July 2005 – June 2006

- Trained in Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA)
- Implemented individual and group programs

Master Dissertation:

Lee, M. J., Loxton D., & McLaughlin, D. (2015). Trauma exposure and the subsequent risk of coronary heart disease among mid-aged women. Journal of Behavioural Medicine, 38(1), 57-65.

Conference Article:

Lee, M. L., & de Zubicaray, G. I. (2010, September). Lexical selection is by competition: A failure to replicate Mahon et al.'s (2007) Experiment 7. Poster presented at the Sixth International Workshop on Language Production, Edinburgh, Scotland.

Published Articles:

Narasimhalu, K., Effendy, S., Sim, C. H., Lee, J. M., Chen, I., Hia, S.B., et al. (2010). A Randomized controlled trial of rivastigmine in patients with cognitive impairment no dementia because of cerebrovascular disease. Acta Neurological Scandinavica, 121, 217-224.

Kandiah, N., Narasimhalu, K., Lee, J., & Chen, C.P.L.H. (2009). Differences exist in the cognitive profile of Mild Alzheimer's Disease and Subcortical Ischemic Vascular Dementia. Dementia and Geriatric Cognitive Disorders, 27, 399-403.

Narasimhalu, K., Lee, J., Auchus, A. P., & Chen, C.P.L.H. (2008). Improving Detection of Dementia in Asian Patients with Low Education: Combining the Mini-Mental State Examination and the Informant Questionnaire on Cognitive Decline in the Elderly. Dementia and Geriatric Cognitive Disorders, 25, 17-22

Awards:

Dean's Commendation for High Achievement in semester 2, 2010, and semester 1, 2011
from the School of Population Health

Languages and Computer Skills:

Languages:

- Fluent in written and spoken forms of English and Mandarin
- Able to understand and speak Hokkien and Teochew

Computer Skills:

- Proficient in MS Office (Word, Excel, and PowerPoint)
- SPSS
- Stata
- NVivo